Safety Policy

QMCA is committed to eliminating harm to all persons involved in construction in Queensland.

QMCA believe that protecting people from harm is a moral obligation, not bound by corporate boundaries. In support of this belief, we:

- will freely share safety information and experiences with the industry
- will actively promote and communicate best practice in workplace health & safety and risk management
- will continually promote innovative approaches and corporate commitment to safety
- will represent our members as the peak industry body relevant to construction safety
- will work in co-operation with others to continually improve construction safety
